This is your classic Lake Sunapee cottage. Built in 1805 it is teeming with memories from each slamming screened door, and creaking floor boards, laughing children and cheering adults. It has a wonderful front porch overlooking the shimmering waterfront. The Turret House is on the Front Street ( Now named Lake Ave) of Blodgett Landing, once a religious community and now a wonderful vacation resort where generations have been coming back year after year. The Turret House has seen lots of summer memories. You can either sit on the three season porch or on the deck at the waterfront. Many diners have lingered by candlelight until the wee hours sitting under the moon and listening to the water lapping at the shore. The sunsets are stunning as well the view of Mt Sunapee. A tradition is to wave to the Sunapee Belle dinner boat and The Mt Kearsarge Tour Boat as they motor by around dinner time.

A dock with a boat lift are included. This is the perfect home for summertime vacations, or restore, renovate or tear down for a new waterfront wearround home. The price is right - and the taxes are palatable. Your vacation memories are waiting to be made.
